Distinguished Lawyer Luncheon Series featuring

Tom Hungar

Former General Counsel to the US House of Representatives

Thomas Hungar was appointed by former House speaker Paul D. Ryan to serve as General Counsel to the US House of Representatives in July 2016, where he served until January 2019 before returning to private practice. As General Counsel, Mr. Hungar provided advice and counsel on a non-partisan basis to the House, including its leadership committees, members and - associated with its investigations and oversight role. He also served as a law clerk to US Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy, and as a fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers. Hungar has argued 26 cases before the US Supreme Court, and served as Deputy Solicitor General of the United States. He is expected to speak about the role of the House's General Counsel's office, arguing before the Supreme Court, and current issues of interest.
