Mark Warmbier United States District Court Greetings FBA members and friends,

We started this 60th year as a celebration of a milestone few FBA chapters can celebrate. The gala event showcased exactly what our Hampton Roads chapter represents – a wonderfully diverse membership with an unmatched collegiality and an incredible turn out of present and past leadership. This did not go unnoticed by our special guests, Christian Adams, current president of the national Federal Bar Association, and the FBA's executive director, Stacy King. Special thanks goes to all of our sponsors, current and past board members, and our official photographer, Virginia Van Valkenburg (read on to see a great sampling of the photos)!

Exactly one hundred years ago on January 5th, 1920, a group of federal lawyers meeting at the U.S. Department of the Interior in Washington, D.C. elected James W. Witten as the first president of the newly formed Federal Bar Association. The association had 438 founding members, and annual dues were $2. Now, 18,000 members strong, nearly 100 geographical chapters around the United States and its territories, sections and divisions dedicated to almost every relevant topic, advocacy efforts that have defined the industry. Check out the new website at fedbar.org and consider attending the 100th anniversary conference in March 2020, which includes a reception at the Supreme Court of the United States and a black tie gala at the National Gallery.

Please mark your calendars for our next luncheon, March 19, 2020, which will be, in conjunction with the Virginia State Bar IP section, a panel discussion featuring Judge Morgan and Judge Miller, as well as past president Steve Noona of Kaufman & Canoles, as we explore the Judicial Perspectives on IP Discovery. We anticipate one (1) hour of CLE.

We look forward to seeing you at our next event!

- Suzanne Katchmar, President

60th Anniversary Celebration

On October 24, 2019, our Chapter celebrated its 60th anniversary at the Chrysler Museum of Art. Many judges and practitioners, past and present, came out to celebrate. In addition, a new slate of board members were sworn in following a great CLE presentation on Nazi-Looted Art from Ray Dowd.

Annual Introduction to Federal Practice Seminar and Admissions Ceremony

On January 24, 2020, the Hampton Roads Chapter hosted its hosted its Annual Introduction to Federal Practice Seminar (with CLE credit) and Admission to Practice Ceremony at the Walter E. Hoffman United States Courthouse. Chapter President Suzanne Katchmar moved for the admission of 23 lawyers to the bar of the United States District Court for Eastern District of Virginia, before several judges of the Court who offered welcoming remarks. The motion was granted in full.

Prior to formal admission and signing the book of admitted lawyers, 27 lawyers participated in the Introduction to Federal Practice Seminar. They heard from Chief Judge Davis on admission to the Court and from Judge Miller regarding discovery issues, summary judgment, final pretrial conferences, and other key components of civil pretrial practice. Local practitioners Kristan Burch and Christy Murphy provided additional insight and tips on the local rules, best practices, and how to manage federal cases. Finally, Suzanne Katchmar offered information on the CJA panel and available resources for those interested in federal criminal work.

PRO BONO OPPORTUNITIES WITH THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA

At times, the Judge assigned to a civil pro se case in our local Federal Courts may determine that the appointment of counsel would help to facilitate the administration of justice. In order to aid in the attorney search process when such circumstances arise, the Norfolk and Newport News Divisions of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia maintain a list of volunteer attorneys and/or law firms who may be willing to represent such plaintiffs, on a pro bono basis. The majority of cases requiring counsel will likely involve civil rights claims brought pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983; however, representation may be needed in other types of civil cases.

When the Court determines that the appointment of counsel is necessary, the Court will reach out to an attorney or law firm contact from its list of volunteers, provide a summary of the factual allegations of the case, identify the involved parties, and allow the potential volunteer a reasonable amount of time to determine whether he or she is willing and able to provide representation.

If you or your law firm would like to be added to the list of volunteers, please send your contact information in writing to:

From FedBar.Org - Washington Watch: Good News-Judicial Vacancies Continue to Decline

"The Federal Bar Association's constant focus on the nomination of candidates to the federal bench is centered on keeping federal judicial vacancies as low as possible. . . . While the FBA remains nonpartisan and does not vet or rate federal judicial nominees, it continually monitors the state of judicial vacancies, with advocacy for prompt action by the president and the Senate in fulfilling their constitutional obligations. The FBA's goal is to ensure that bench strength in each judicial district and circuit operates at maximum capacity. . . . By early 2018, vacancies reached a high-water mark of 155 unfilled seats on the federal bench, representing 18 percent of all district and circuit judgeships. . . . [M]ore recently, and particularly over the past seven months, the pace of confirmations has rapidly picked up. By Oct. 1, the number of Article III judicial vacancies had fallen to 94. Since January alone, 63 judicial nominees had been confirmed." Read more at https://www.fedbar.org/blog/2020/01/13/good-news-judicial-vacancies-continue-to-decline/

Reminder:

Non-Delegation of Your CM/ECF Information. Reminder!

Attorneys serving as local counsel for outside attorneys may not give their ECF filing information out to any other attorney. Specifically, the policy under Delegation of Authority to Use Login and Password was updated last year to make clear that:

"No attorney shall knowingly permit, or cause to permit, his or her password to be utilized by anyone other than an authorized employee of his or her office. ### Fourth Circuit Addresses Probable Cause for Blood Draw Warrant Following Accident

United States v. Blakeny – No. 18-4921 (Feb. 6, 2020)

On June 5, 2017, defendant Stephonze Blakeney was driving westbound on Suitland Parkway in Prince George's County, Maryland, just outside of the District of Columbia. Both he and his passenger had been drinking earlier that evening. On an on-ramp, Blakeney lost control of his car, which veered sharply to the left, swerved, hitting the raised concrete median that divides traffic on the parkway and crossed the median into oncoming traffic and struck another vehicle. The front end of Blakeney's car, including its engine, had completely separated from the rest of the vehicle. EMS personnel declared his passenger deceased at the scene, and the oncoming driver ultimately recovered from his injuries.

On the scene, a park police officer sought a telephonic search warrant from the District of Maryland's then-on-duty magistrate judge. The officer described the accident and the fatality involved, stated that Blakeney had been removed from the driver's seat of his car "with a heavy odor of alcohol and possibly PCP," and reported that Blakeney had been "combative" and "had to be restrained" in order for EMS personnel to address his injuries. The magistrate judge issued the search warrant for Blakeney's blood, which came back at .07. Prior to his trial on homicide by motor vehicle while impaired by alcohol, driving without a license, and reckless driving, Blakeney moved to suppress the results of the blood draw, among other things.

Blakeney's chief contention was that probable cause to believe that a person is driving under the influence of alcohol ordinarily requires more than the simple fact of a car accident. However, citing three key factors, the Fourth Circuit affirmed the denial of suppression motion. First, the court cited the "severity of the driver error described in the warrant application. Second, the court rejected argument against probable cause based on a smell of alcohol being found only in the vehicle, after he had been removed from it. It held: "[a]n officer who smells alcohol in the passenger compartment of a now-crashed car in which two people have been driving reasonably may infer that either or both individuals were drinking at the time of the crash." Finally, the court cited Blakeney's combativeness at the scene of the accident as further supporting probable cause that he was not sober. The convictions were affirmed.

Fourth Circuit Addresses Necessary Parties Under Rule 19

Gunvor SA v. Kayablian, et al. - No. 18-2366 (Jan. 22, 2020)

Gunvor SA, a Swiss company, sued United States citizens in the Eastern District of Virginia, invoking the court's alienage diversity jurisdiction. The defendants moved to dismiss pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(7) on the ground that Gunvor had failed to join a British Virgin Islands corporation (a subsidiary of one of the defendants), which the defendants asserted was necessary and indispensable to the action. The district court agreed and, because joining the BVI corporation would have destroyed alienage diversity and subject matter jurisdiction, dismissed the complaint without prejudice.

Gunvor, a global commodities firm, entered into a series of contracts for the purchase of oil from a state-owned Iraqi oil company. The deal was structured so that the fuel would pass from the Iraqi Oil Tankers Corp., which would convey it at the lower Iraqi domestic price, through an Iraqi company then to the BVI company, which would sell it to the plaintiff, Gunvor, which would sell it to third parties at the higher international market price. The parties entered into a series of contracts to consummate the deal. Specifically, four Fuel Oil Contracts governed the sale from the BVI company to the plaintiff, each of which contained an integration clause ("The Fuel Oil Contracts are especially relevant here. Each included an integration clause: This contract contains the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all previous negotiations, representations, agreements or commitments with regard to its subject matter.").

After about $24,000,000 worth of oil went unaccounted for, Gunvor sued the defendants (principals of the BVI company and another defendant) alleging that it has been fraudulently induced to enter into the contracts. Assessing a Rule 12(b)(7) motion on appeal, the court recognized that if "the nonjoined party is necessary and indispensable to the action, but joinder would destroy subject matter jurisdiction, the court must dismiss the action." Notably, a Rule 19 dismissal is reviewed for abuse of discretion.

The plaintiff argued that the BVI company was not a necessary party because the agreement was a broad joint venture with the defendants, and the BVI company was "one small cog in a much bigger machine." Despite the plaintiff's characterizations and artful pleading, the court found that the plaintiff's fundamental grievance was a breach of the Fuel Oil Contracts, to which the plaintiff and the BVI company were the sole parties. Following review of the relevant Rule 19(b) factors, the court affirmed the district court's holding that the BVI company was a necessary and indispensable party, and therefore dismissal was required. "[A] contracting party is the paradigm of an indispensable party." (citation omitted).

Changes to the CJA Plan

On November 6, 2019, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia passed a new CJA plan. While some terms and conditions remained the same, many have been updated and modified. If you are on the CJA panel (or are interested in applying) please review the new plan (www.vaed.uscourts.gov).

Some notable changes include: 1. A CJA panel committee is now in place to serve Alexandria, Richmond and Norfolk/Newport News. Each CJA Committee consists of one district court judge, one magistrate judge, one federal public defender attorney, two CJA Panel attorneys, and an ex officio staff member employed by the clerk who will act as administrative coordinator. For Norfolk/Newport News, the committee members, respectively, are Judge Arenda Wright Allen, Magistrate Judge Douglas e. Miller, Rodolfo Cejas, Andrew Behrns, Emily Munn, and Adrian Jones. Please feel free to consult any of the attorney panel members for questions or concerns about the process or new plan. 2. The plan now establishes staggered membership terms of 1, 3, or 5 years. In order to begin these staggered terms, all current CJA panel members will be required to reapply for consideration. The current list has been divided at random into 1, 3, or 5 year terms. If you did not receive an email from the court advising which term applies to you, please reach out to a member of the committee for assistance. 3. The plan now establishes a specific procedure for disputing the reduction of a voucher payment. 4. Attorneys must now complete five (5) hours of continuing legal education each year specific to federal practice. The Norfolk/Newport News panel committee is working to set up several local seminars that will satisfy this requirement and also provide an opportunity for CJA panel members to socialize and mentor each other. We look forward to growing the CJA panel, and also providing as many resources, training opportunities, and support for the members as possible so that our division can continue to provide excellent representation for indigent defendants in the Eastern District of Virginia.

Judge Novak Receives His Commission in Richmond

On October 15, 2019, Judge David J. Novak received the commission for his position as a United States District Judge, following an 89-3 vote in the Senate confirming his appointment. His ascension filled the vacancy in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Richmond Division, created by Judge Henry E. Hudson's taking senior status. President George W. Bush first nominated Judge Novak as a District Judge in 2007, but the Senate failed to timely vote on his nomination, and it expired. Before being selected as a Magistrate Judge in 2012, Judge Novak served 18 years as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the Eastern District of Virginia, including as Chief of the Criminal Division and as Senior Litigation Counsel.
