AGENDA

Tax Rulings Under EU State Aid Law

Rupert Shiers, Falk Schöning, Jan Blockx, Christine Lane, and Falk Loose, Hogan Lovells

Tackling tax avoidance is high on the political agenda in Europe, and the European Commission is throwing its weight behind it with State aid investigations, in particular on tax rulings. This is relevant for both European companies and for non-European multinationals as the involvement of the U.S. government in recent political discussions demonstrates.

Hogan Lovells' European head of tax disputes Rupert Shiers, Falk Schöning and Jan Blockx from the firm's State aid team in Brussels, and Christine Lane and Falk Loose from its tax practice in Washington D.C. and Munich regularly advise on State aid investigations into tax rulings and attempt to predict what is next. Join us for an engaging presentation as our speakers provide valuable insight about the background, key issues, and U.S. perspective of EU State aid investigations.

Next Call: Monday, July 25, 2016 at 1:00 p.m.

Volunteers interested in leading a discussion or making a presentation at this or any future meeting are encouraged to contact Matthew Cooper (Matthew.Cooper@ey.com) or Lisandra Ortiz (lortiz@milchev.com).
